International Academy of Columbus moves into new expanded facility

International Academy of Columbus (IAC) is a public charter school established in 2002, educating students in grades K-8. They are uniquely qualified to serve populations of Limited English Proficiency (LEP) students.

Under the leadership of Dr. Tarazi this public charter school, over the years, has provided 'first class' educational opportunities to thousands of children.

To better accommodate the needs of their students, they relocated to a new facility at 2439 Fuji Drive, north of downtown Columbus.

Dr. Tarazi is thrilled with the new facility. "This new building now has nearly tripled the amount of room for our students and staff. We have a full indoor gym, auditorium, science & computer lab, library, art room and cafeteria. And outside, we now have a new playground for basketball, volleyball, soccer and tennis. The children love it and so does our staff."

& Ron Adler, OCQE President

The school's sponsor is, Buckeye Community Hope Foundation. Peggy Young is the Director and was also excited about the new facility. "We are proud of International Academy of Columbus and the wonderful work that they offer to a unique population of Columbus students. We are confident that this new building will provide great benefit to the students and the community."
